The Beaumont Medical Club Presents

Medicine and War: a panel discussion

Friday, April 21st, at 5 p.m. in the Medical Historical Library

Kristaps Keggi, MD, D. Med. (h.c.)
Elehu Professor of Orthopaedics and Rehabilitation, YSM
Captain in the Medical Corps (Ret.), USAR
Chief of Orthopedic Surgery to the 3rd M.A.S.H.
with the 173rd Airborne in Bien Hoa, Vietnam,
during the Vietnam War

Shepard B. Stone, MPS, PA, FAHA, DFAAPA
Associate Clinical Professor of Anesthesiology
Physician Associate-Anesthesiologist
Clinical Director, Adult Post Anesthesia Care Units
Yale-New Haven Hospital
Brigadier General (Ret.) Connecticut State Guard Reserve
Colonel (Ret.) U. S. Army

Dennis Dee Spencer, MD
(Dee Spencer will be discussing Dr. Harvey Cushing’s experiences in World War I)
Harvey and Kate Cushing Professor of Neurosurgery
Director, Epilepsy Surgery Program; Pituitary Tumor Program

Melissa Thomas, MBA, MHA, MPH
Yale School of Medicine MD Candidate
Major in the Medical Service Corps
(Veteran) U. S. Army, Operation Iraqi Freedom

Moderated by Thomas P. Duffy, MD, Professor Emeritus of Medicine (Hematology)

Co-sponsored by the Medical Historical Library, in celebration of the exhibition “Yale Medicine Goes to War, 1917,” on display in the Cushing Rotunda.

Yale Harvey Cushing/John Hay Whitney Medical Library