Highlighted Resources

- MedlinePlus offers consumer health information on various topics such as medical conditions, medications, and supplements in multiple languages. In celebration of patient education every day, we welcome you to review MedlinePlus and the full collection of consumer health resources in the A-Z List under the filter "Patient Education"
- Open Access and Scholarly Communication - The Medical Library can support you at all stages of the publication lifecycle and has launched a new webpage to make learning, publishing, and partnering with librarians easier than ever
- DynaMed provides clinically-oriented, evidence-based summaries written by medical experts for point-of-care use by health care professionals.

Upcoming Office Hours

No appointment necessary - just drop in:

- Nov 10, 3pm - 4pm (Zoom)
- Dec 15, 3pm - 4pm (Zoom)

We're available to discuss how librarians can help you in your clinical setting, such as finding articles and information to support your practice. We can also help with literature reviews, evidence synthesis projects, critical appraisal, citation management, and grey literature.

Events

- Sit Down and Write: Silent Work Session Using the Pomodoro Method
Join us for "Sit and Write" – a dedicated, distraction-free time to work on whatever you need, whether it's writing, charting, or research. All are welcome to focus and get things done!
 - Oct 30, 4pm - 6pm (Zoom)
 - Nov 19, 5pm - 7pm (In-person)
