

NEW EXHIBITION

A Cosmos of Similarity

Showcasing extraordinary yet lesser-known works from the Medical Historical Library collections, this object-driven exhibition centers an historical world in which mathematics, aesthetics, physics, theology, and medicine intertwine. On view in the Cushing Rotunda through August 2025.

REGISTER

Annual Lecture of the Medical Library Associates

Join us April 23rd for a lecture by Dr. Megan L. Ranney, Dean of the Yale School of Public Health, titled "Gun violence as a public health problem: What we know, and where we are going."

APPLICATIONS OPEN

Research Grants Available from the Medical Historical Library

Applications are open for two research grant opportunities (up to $2,000 each) to study collections in the Medical Historical Library. The deadline for submissions is midnight on Sunday, April 27.

UPDATE

Support Available for NIH Common Form Requirement

Effective May 25, 2025, the NIH will require the use of SciENCv to complete Common Forms. The Medical Library is offering instruction sessions and support for researchers who need assistance.

OPEN POSITIONS

Biomedical Research and Methodology Librarians

The Medical Library is hiring two Biomedical Research and Methodology Librarians who will support evidence synthesis and research projects at the Yale School of Medicine.

EXPANDED ACCESS

American Journal of Obstetrics and Gynecology

The Medical Library recently acquired full access to this journal, with coverage from 1920-present.

COMING SOON

Library Services Platform Upgrade

On July 9, Yale Library will launch a new library services platform called Alma. Learn more about how it may impact research and teaching.

RECENTLY ADDED

New in the Collection

Browse a list of titles added to our collection including several new graphic novels about various healthcare subjects.

Did you know?

The Medical Library hosts monthly AI Prompt-a-thons! Learn the key ingredients to successful AI prompting and try out the range of tools Yale provides for the community in a supportive environment.

Sign up for a March Prompt-a-thon